efficient co-operation.—Indicates a framer.

The primary question for the United States in the election, as it is for Genetices in the election tests of this reck, is the national sanction, and intests of this reck, is the national sanction, and intests of this reck, is the national sanction, and intesting the candidate of the Democratic party, brought of the candidate of the Democratic party, brought for ever, the assaudemy of liberal commercial principles. In this respect, and out his point, we take Gen. Pierce to be a fair representative of the opinions of Mr. Calliana, and, as such, a valuable practical alty to the commercial policy of the country. graphs. No can he be at a loss us to the position of the Democratic candidates on the River and Harbor Question. The Platform, on which they were nominated, denies the right and authority of Congress to make appropriations for the purpose of Internal Improvements. Mr. Pierce, in accepting the nomination, not only cordially embraced the Platform but defied his opponents to point to a single act of his life which was in confliet with it. Both Mr. Pleace and Mr. King, the lemocratic candidates for the Presidency and the Vice-Presidency, bave uniformly voted in Congress against all River and Harbor Bills. Not a single vote of theirs in favor of such bills can be shown Mr. Kroo was among the determined band who killed off the River and Harbor Bill last year by talking against time and other factious opposition.
Upon the vote this year, on a similar the less liberal bill, both the Democratic Representatives for New Hampshire, Mr. Pierce's own State, sided, as usual, with the opposition. The leading organs of Southern Democracy, the Examiner at Richmond and the Georgian at Savannah, proudly point to this vote as proof of Frank Pirecel's hos-rilly to Internal Improvements and exultingly proclaim that if he is elected President, no such seasures can pass, for he will veto them "as sure as there is a sun in heaven." Thus then stands the case. FRANKLIN PIERCE by the terms of the Baltimore Platform; by the ed to give the enterptize a good start. The Sunday Question

We invite the attention of the Mayor and Common Council, as well as of our Law and Order the memorable events and persons of American oving citizens generally, to the following insulting boast which appeared in last Monday's Banpresented the following preamble and resolutions.

Whereas, in the course of the unparalleled increase of the population of this State, and the extraordinary growth of its against and commercial interests, it has become necessary that some avenue of communication with eastern murkets should be provided for winter as well as summer travel and transportation; and Watkegan to Editor Tribune: Our State Elections came off last Monday. Full returns have not come in, last worked in a directly known to render it certain that John P. Cook. Whig, is elected to Congress in place of Hon. Lincoln Clark, present member, by at least 500 majority. I give the ansiorities as far as heard from; they are not official, but reliable. Several western Counties are to hear from, but they will increase the majority for Cook. Nothing from the lat District. It looks as though we should carry the Legislatium.

Muscatine, Iowa, Friday, Aug. 6 1859.

Politor Tribane: The inclosed slip will show you that the White are not nesleep in Iowa. The defect of Lincoln Clark (one of the strongest men in the Democratic party) has spread consternation through the ranks of the enemy. The probability now is that one branch of the Legislature will be Whig. The State is a sore thing for scott and Graham. Gov. Lucas (Democratic ex-Governor of Ohio, and still later of lowa) has declared for Scott and Graham. Hundreds of Democrats who voted their own ticket at this elsection will go for Scott this fall.

Gen. Scott is no trumped-up hero of to-day.—
His praises are not now sung for the first time.—
He has been the pride of the Nation for forty years.
The most glorious eulogies with which any man has erer been honored were meted out to him before he had reached his thirtieth year. In 1814 it was deemed no crime—no mere political gammon—to pronounce him a hero. The People were spontaueous in awarding him this distinction.—
Here is what a coteraporary wrote in 1814. It is found in Niles' Register of August 17 of that found in Niles' Register of August 17 of that year.—

Generals Brown and Scott are doing well. The former it is thought may have resumed his command about the 25th of August. Scott suffered much, and was still confined to his bed on the 12th; there was every prospect of as speedy recovery as could be expected. The gallant soldier, who has not yet attained his thirtieth year, is a trained this county. (Dinvidide) In this State he received his education and its last nolish at the Cellage of William and Mary. With skill, diligence, perseverance and unrivalled eloquence, he pasticed law for a short time in the adjacont counties. But his great soul appried to 'deeds of arms." He entered the service of his country in 1860, with the commission of Captain of Light Artillery, and in a short time fjoined the Southern army under General Wilkinson. His arrest, the charge against him, and his unparalled defence on that corasion, have long since been bego against him, and his unparalleled de-than occasion, have long since been be-publis. This solid defence convinced the if Washington and the World at targe, has the scholar, the politicism, and the sol-ce then no must has ascended the military the more resplendent rapidity than WIN-SOOTT — TWO MORE ROUNDS. Mr. Gales & Seaton:

My Dear Old Friends:—We've made out to ratify at last, but it was about as burd a job as it was for the Baltimore convention to nominate Aud I'm afraid the worst out ain't over yet; for uncle Joshus shakes his head and says to me, in a low tone, so the rest shun't hear, "Between you and me, Major, the 'lection will be a lander job. I put great faith in uncle Joshus's feelins. He's a regolar political weather-glass, and can always tell whether we are going to bave it fair or foul a good ways ahead. So when he shakes his head, in aterally look out for a taff spell of weather.—When I got home from Baltimore, says I "Well uncle Joshua, you got my letter in the Intelligence, didn't you?" And says he "Yes."

"Well, didn't we do that business up well?"

Says I says brow about that 's said uncle Joshua.

"Well, nunr's we do that business ap well, anys I.
"I don't know about that," said uncle Joshua;
"I have my donbts about it."
"Why don't you think," says I, "the nomination of Gen. Pierce will put the democratic party on its legs again, and give it a fine start?"
Uncle Joshua looked up to me kind of quizzieul and says he, "It has gi'n the party a protity considerable of a start already, it came so unexpected?". And then he set as much as two minutes.

nothin.

And then he looked up again, and says he "Major, who is Gineral Pierce? It ain't a fictitions name, is it?"

"Why uncle Joshun," says I, "how you talk!
It is Gineral Franklin Pierce, of New Hamp-

It is Gineral Franklin Pierce, of New Hampe chire."

"Gineral Franklin Pierce, of New Hampshire, and the such aperson, or did "somebody play a boax on the Baltmore Convention?"

"Yee," says I, "incle, I'm as sure of it as I am that there is such a person as uncle Joshua Downing. To make all sure of it and, no initiake, I came through New Hampshire, and went to Concord, where they said he lived; and inquired all about it. The neighbors there all knew him perfectly well, and showed me the house he lives in He wasn't at home or I should a seen him myself, and should got his promise to keep the Downing-vile post office, for you. But you needn't be afraid but what you'll have it, for I sent a telegraph to him, from Baltimore; as soon as he was nominated, to keep it for you."

Here I see by the looks of nucle Joshua's eyes, that he begun to get hold of some new ideas.—

Says be. "Well, Major, it is a fact, then, is if, that he was nominated in real carnest and twan't no joke!"

"Upon my word and honor." says I "there a on both sides."

"Well, how is it," said Uncle Joshua, "about that boy candidate for the Presidency, that they call Young America? If his nose is knocked out of joint he'll of course oppose the nomination, tooth and rail."

"There's where you are mistaken again, Uncle Joshua," says I. On the contrary, he goes for it hotter than any one of 'em; and he telegraphed back to Baltimore as quick as lightning could carrier, yi that the nomination was just the thing; it couldn't be no better. Ye see he looks upon it in the light that it chokes off all the old Kogies and leaves the field clear for him next time. He thinks so highly of the nomination, and feels so patriotic about it, they say he is going to stump it through all the States, and make speeches in favor of Gen. Pierce's election. You may depend nomination, one that'll carry all afore it; every body is delighted with it, and every body is going to go for it. I did'nt expect you to hold back a moment. I thought you would have things all used the lock of the send reliccal standarding than the completion, the said amount. I thought you would have things all the states, and make speeches in far yor of Gen. I did'nt expect you to hold back and the fight plump down.

"Well, you know Major," said Uncle Joshua, "You know the Realtimore Convention fixed the compromise and the fogitive law, and is dead-standing than to think the Free-soilers will ever swallow that platform, and if they don't we are dished."

"You are all wrong again, Uncle Joshua," says in the Freescalers, Nov Major, you must be soilers will ever swallow that platform, and if they don't we are dished."

"Who do you mean?" says he.

"I mean Mr. John Van Buren." says I.
"But you don't mean." says Uncle Joshua.
"that Mr. John Van Buren accepts this plutform,

"but you don't mean," says under Joshua, "that Mr. John Van Buren accepts this platform, and is willing to stand on it."

"Yes, I do exactly so," says I, "for he got right up in Tammany Hall and made a speech about it; and he said he'd go the nomination, and he'd stand the platform for this election, any how.—You need nt beat all afraid of the Free Soilers, Uncle; they ain't so stiff as you think for, and they are as anxious to get the offices as any body, and will work as hard for 'um. Now let us go to work and get up our ratification, and blow it out straight. The Democracy of the country expects Downingville to do its ciuty."

"Well, Major," says Uncle Joshua, "you've made out a better case of it than I thought you could. I'm willing to take hold and see what we can do. But I declare I can't help laughing, when I think its Gineral Frauklin Pierce of New Hampshire, that we've got to ratify. I wish we knew something about him; something that we could make a little flusteration about, and wake up the Democracy."

"Gland crescious." Incle Joshua." says I "have "Gord crescious."

could make a little flusteration about, and wake up the Democracy."

"Good gracions, Uncle Joshua," says I, "have you been Postmaster of Downingville this twenty years, and always reading the papers, and don't know that Gen. Pierce was one of the heroes of the Mexican war?"

At that, Uncle Joshua hopped up out of his chair like a boy, and says he, "Major, is that a foot?"

"Yes," snys I, "lis's fact. You know Mr. Polksent me out there as a private ambassador to look after Gen. Scott and Mr Trist. And Gen. Pierce was out there; I know all about it, and about his country yet, and General Scott wouldn't wait for him. It seems as if Conoral Scott is always in a hurry when there is any lighting to do, and won't hurry when there is any lighting to do and won't wait for nobody."

Well, the next great buttle, if I remember the newspapers right," said Uncle Joshun, "was Contreass; and after that came the bloody and hat times of Churubusco, and the King's Mill, and Chepulteper, and marching into the City of Mexico. These were the battles, I spose, where Gineral Pierca fit like a lion, and become the here of the Mexican war. But which buttle did he shine the brighest in, and cut down most of the enemy?"

"The truth is," says I, 2 he got wounded at Con-

"Then he was in the battle of Contrems," said and Chepultepee?

"Then he was in the battle of Contrems," said Uncle Joshua, "and that can't be disputed?"

"O yes," says f, "he was certainly in the first part of it, when they was getting the battle ready, for there's where he got wounded."

"Good," says Uncle Joshua it he was in one battle and got wounded; that's enough to make a handle of any how. Wherehours was his wound?"

"Well, he had several horts," said I. "I believe in his foot and ancle, and other parts."

"Rifle bail?" said Uncle Joshua, very earnest.

"Of no, nothing of that kind," says I.

"What then; sword cuts." Or did the Mexicans stick their bayonets into him?"

"No, no; mothing of that kind, nather." says I.

"Then it must be grape or bombshells," said Uncle Joshua, "how was it?"

"No, no, "twasn't none of them thinus," says I, "the fact was when they was skirmishing round and getting really for the battle, his horse fall down with him and lanced him very bad."

Uncle Joshua, oloved a little and sot and thought. At less he put on one of his knowing looks, and says he Well, Major, a wound is a wound, any-how, and we can make a handle of it without being such fools as to go into all the particulars of how he came by it. I say lets go ahead and ratify Gineal Pierre, and who knows but what we can make samething out of this Mexican business?"

Well, Mr Cules & Seaton, the thing was done.
